Equipment Painting

Any brand, any model • Increase resale value
Prevent damage from rust and weather

First Impressions Count

Appearances do matter. Of course, performance is the defining measurement of your work, but how your equipment looks can affect how your business is perceived. Repainting weathered equipment can be a great investment for your business.

Maintain Equipment Value

Equipment that looks new is valued higher for resale. And paint protects your equipment against rust and wear. Maintaining the appearance of your equipment by repainting when needed could pay off in the long run.

PBE's Painting Facilities

Our paint process begins with a through cleaning and degreasing, then all external decals are removed. The machine is sanded and cleaned again. Glass, hoses and cylinders are taped and masked off. Finally, the equipment is primed, painted, and re-decaled, using OEM materials. The temperature and humidity are carefully controlled as part of our application process.

Prices will vary with type, size and condition of equipment. Your satisfaction is guaranteed. Trucking to our paint center is available.
